

Who made thee, Hob, forsake the Plough

A Dialogue between two Shepherds

William Byrd (c.1540-1623)

Alto

Baritone

Soprano Recorder

Alto Recorder

Tenor Recorder

Bass Recorder

A.

B.

S

A

T

B

Who made thee Hob, for - sake the Plough, and fall in

7

A. love?

B. Sweet beau - ty which hath power to — bow the gods a -

S

A

T

B

10

A. What dost thou serve a shep - herd - ess?

B. bove, Ay, such

S

A

T

B

13

A.

B.

S

A

T

B

as hath no peer, — I guess.

16

A.

B.

S

A

T

B

What is her

19

A. name, who bears thy heart with - in her breast?

B. Sil - va - na

S

A

T

B

22

A. Oh Hob,

B. fair of high de - sert, whom I love best,

S

A

T

B

25

A. I fear she looks too high,

B. yet love I must, or else ____

S

A

T

B

28

A. Oh Hob, I fear she looks too high,

B. — I die.

S

A

T

B

31

A. yet love I must or else I die, I die, or else I

B. yet love I must or else I die, I die, or else

S

A

T

B

34

A. die, I die.

B. I die, I die.

S

A

T

B